

Jürgen Pingel
Oliver Specht
Frank Loehmann
Lutz Höger

5

10

Q 927031

15

A reference database containing, for example, bibliographic data of a computer-readable document like a text document is stored together with the text document in a single data file. The reference data are therefore always accessible for the user of the document.